CREATING THE WORKFORCE WEST VIRGINIA NEEDS

SARAH ARMSTRONG TUCKER, PH.D.
Chancellor

“Our colleges and universities continue stepping up to be the workforce solution West Virginia needs.”

I've always said that education is the best way forward – the most hopeful path for individuals and communities to emerge from challenges much stronger than before, and to create a promising new future for everyone. As West Virginia emerges from the COVID-19 pandemic, I'm more confident than ever in that belief.

In this report, the 2021 West Virginia Higher Education Almanac, you'll see the progress our public colleges and universities have made over the past year – even in the midst of a public health crisis. Because of our institutions' collective hard work in keeping our campus communities safe, faculty have been innovative in their delivery and students have persisted in their studies.

Of course, we expected some declines in enrollment and other areas, but it has been truly remarkable to see colleges and universities working together, sharing best practices, and prioritizing the success and well-being of their students throughout the pandemic. We've all done so because we recognize the great need ahead – to help more West Virginians reach their college and career dreams, and to help strengthen our state's economy.

If this crisis taught us anything, it's that West Virginia needs an exceptionally strong workforce. We need healthcare providers caring for those in our communities. We need teachers committed to our youngest people. We need professionals in tech fields keeping us connected to the latest technologies.

The solution to each of these needs – and more – is education and training. That is why we are working on multiple fronts to reinforce West Virginia's workforce in some of the state's most critical, high-need areas.

Our colleges and universities continue stepping up to be the workforce solution West Virginia needs. If we are to round the corner from COVID-19, attract and keep job creators, and help the state's citizens create bright new futures for themselves and their families, postsecondary education remains the key.

Whether it's through technical training or four-year degree programs or beyond, our higher education system – together with our government and business partners – are solving some of the biggest challenges we face. We're committed to meaningful and positive change, helping people reach their full potential, and making our state stronger than ever before.

2021 HIGHLIGHTS

COLLEGE FOR WEST VIRGINIA UNVEILED

Over the summer, West Virginia’s central higher education office unveiled “College for West Virginia” as a new and expanded resource for West Virginians planning for postsecondary education. This expansion represents a rebrand of CFWV.com, the state’s college- and career-planning web portal previously known as the College Foundation of West Virginia, and the launch of its sister site, CollegeforWV.com, which is focused on state-sponsored financial aid programs that total more than $100 million in scholarships and grants for West Virginians each year. Together, these sites redefine CFWV as “College for West Virginia,” home to the state’s free resources for planning, applying, and paying for college.

GEAR UP GRANT

In October, the Higher Education Policy Commission announced that it received a $24.5 million grant from the U.S. Department of Education to support college-planning and readiness services for more than 17,500 middle and high school students over the next seven years. This marks the fourth time West Virginia has received a “Gaining Early Awareness and Readiness for Undergraduate Programs” (GEAR UP) grant, and the third consecutive time it has been awarded to the Commission. Under this new award, West Virginia GEAR UP will continue to stress the importance of earning a trade certificate, two-year degree or four-year degree after high school and provide students with resources to prepare for and succeed in college.

OPEN LEARNING WV

Early this year, the state higher education office launched a program, “Open Learning WV,” that gives faculty the opportunity to implement Open Educational Resources (OER) as alternatives to traditional textbooks for their students. The COVID-19 pandemic underscored the need to make learning materials more easily accessible, but even before that, in 2019, the Legislature passed legislation that encourages the use of OER – materials that live in the public domain or are otherwise released under an open license that allow for low-cost and easy access to students – as a strategy to reduce the financial burden on students. Based on Spring and Summer 2021 course enrollments and the cost of course materials before OER implementation, students experienced an aggregate savings of over $250,000 in one semester – over a quarter of a million dollars. This savings comes with only 41 faculty creating or adopting OER in 44 separate courses in two semesters – and these numbers continue to grow.

WV VACS TEAM

In April, more than 1,000 health professional students from colleges and universities across the state volunteered to administer vaccines in coordination with local health departments and community health partners. This initiative – the West Virginia Vaccine Administration, Collaboration, and Support (WV VACS) Team – resulted from a partnership among the National Guard, Department of Health and Human Resources, and Higher Education Policy Commission. The effort was recognized in October with the 2021 George E. Thibault Nexus Award from the Association of Schools Advancing Health Professions, which celebrates stand-out interprofessional collaboration and those who are working innovatively where practice and education connect in health systems.

“...the central higher education office awarded nearly $60,000 in grants to improve student mental health at colleges and universities across the state.”

MENTAL HEALTH GRANTS

In August, the central higher education office awarded nearly $60,000 in grants to improve student mental health at colleges and universities across the state. This year's Campus Mental Health Grants supported 12 projects, including a virtual peer support app, suicide prevention and crisis intervention training for faculty and students, increased availability of mental health and wellness presentations for students, and the creation of wellness and meditation spaces on campuses. Institutions are encouraged to partner with campus and community-based resources to increase the reach of their projects.

ABOUT THE

WEST VIRGINIA HIGHER EDUCATION ALMANAC

The 2021 WEST VIRGINIA HIGHER EDUCATION ALMANAC provides year-end higher education statistics for both of the state's higher education systems, the West Virginia Higher Education Policy Commission (Commission) and West Virginia Council for Community and Technical College Education (Council).

When reviewing the statistics in this report, it is important to carefully consider the data definitions for each metric, which are found at the end of the document. This is particularly important when it comes to the cohort, or group of students, of which the statistic is reflective. For example, there are fundamental differences between "full-time" and "part-time" students that can have a drastic effect on the reported data.

This edition of the Almanac provides high-level summary statistics for each institution, with a focus on the 2020-2021 academic year. Detailed historical data are available through the new interactive data portal - Explorer - at:

<http://www.wvhepc.edu/resources/data-and-publication-center>

Explorer provides the most current data available for every institution within both the two- and four-year systems. The data are updated throughout the year as they become available. To learn more about the institutions, data and initiatives featured in this report, use your tablet or smartphone to scan QR codes like the one below.

TOP 5 DEGREE AREAS

2020-21 Academic Year | Summer, Fall and Spring End-of-Term Data

This list reflects the five most common fields of study based on the total number of undergraduate and graduate degrees awarded within an academic year. Fields of study are categorized using the U.S. Department of Education's Classification of Instructional Programs (CIP) codes and associated disciplines.

STUDENT TO FACULTY RATIO

2019-20 Academic Year | Integrated Postsecondary Education Data System (IPEDS)

This metric is calculated by dividing total full-time equivalent (FTE) enrollment for students not enrolled in graduate or professional programs by total FTE for instructional staff not teaching in graduate or professional programs.

TOTAL ANNUAL HEADCOUNT

2020-21 Academic Year | Summer, Fall and Spring End-of-Term Data

Annualized headcount enrollment values represent the total number of unique students who enrolled in credit-bearing classes during the summer, fall and spring terms in a given academic year at a specific institution.

DUAL ENROLLMENT HEADCOUNT

2020-21 Academic Year | Summer, Fall and Spring End-of-Term Data

This measure reflects the percentage of the institution's total annualized headcount enrollment that is comprised of high school students enrolled in college classes while still in high school.

FULL-TIME EQUIVALENT (FTE) ENROLLMENT

2020-21 Academic Year | Summer, Fall and Spring End-of-Term Data

Annualized Full-Time Equivalent (FTE) enrollment values represent the sum of all credit hours generated by undergraduate students enrolled in credit-bearing classes, divided by 30, and the sum of credit hours generated by graduate students in credit-bearing classes, divided by 24, during the summer, fall and spring terms in a given academic year at a specific institution.

FALL FRESHMAN CLASS PROFILE

2020-21 Academic Year | Fall End-of-term Data

This section provides a summary of the academic and demographic characteristics of first-time, full- and part-time, associate or bachelor's degree-seeking freshmen matriculating in the fall semester of an academic year. Featured characteristics include gender, race/ethnicity, West Virginia residency status, percentage scoring at or above college-ready benchmarks in the English and Math sections of the SAT (based only on those freshmen who submitted SAT scores), percentage receiving financial aid through the West Virginia PROMISE Scholarship or federal Pell Grant programs, and the percentage who earned college credit while in high school through programs such as dual enrollment, Advanced Placement (AP) and International Baccalaureate (IB).

UNDERGRADUATE STUDENT PROFILE

2020-21 Academic Year | Summer, Fall and Spring End-of-Term Data

This section provides a summary of the academic and demographic characteristics of all credit-seeking undergraduate students within an academic year at a given institution.

MINORITY STUDENTS

Students with racial or ethnic minority status are those who self-identify as Hispanic, American Indian or Alaskan Native, Black or African-American, Native Hawaiian or Other Pacific Islander, or multi-racial.

PART-TIME STUDENTS

A part-time student is defined as an undergraduate student enrolling in fewer than 12 credit hours, or a graduate student enrolling in fewer than 9 credit hours, in a semester.

FALL-TO-FALL RETENTION

Fall 2019 First-Time Full-Time Freshman Cohort | Fall End-of-Term Data

This indicator reflects the percentage of first-time full-time freshmen in a fall entry cohort who enrolled the following fall at the same institution.

FALL-TO-SPRING RETENTION

Fall 2020 First-Time Full-Time Freshman Cohort | Fall and Spring End-of-Term Data

This indicator reflects the percentage of first-time full-time freshmen in a fall entry cohort who enrolled in the spring semester of the same academic year at the same institution.
